892, q (pronounced Pryvit)

I've just come from a Ukrainian lesson and the amount of Homework I have is starting to scare me. The alphabet is just so different not to mention the totally different grammatical structure. Oh well enough lamenting.

God is so good!

Sometimes I forget this though. This last month I believe He is gently forcing me to understand that I must rely on Him and not my own strength. My luggage was delayed but He had that under control. Some items were stolen but He has that under control. I just found out that whoever stole my phone made $288 worth of calls before I could get it cancelled, but God has   that under control also.

Here is a picture of the   house I am considering buying. The owner has   already given me the keys. There is a lot of   junk to be removed and a number of basic   repairs and installations to make   it liveable. The official paperwork has yet to   be done and either party can still pull out, so   please pray that the right decision will be   made evident one way or another.

Tonight is team dinner and I am one of the ones   responsible for cooking. It is so hard to buy good fresh veggies here. But fatty meat you can find in abundance!

- I guess I have 3 main focuses which I would like you to pray about.

Language Study – this will be ongoing but it is so important to be able to communicate Relationship Building – I am getting to know some young people, but a trusting friendship takes time to build. It's even slower with limited language skills Accommodation – pray that the right decision will be made and the timing will not be too far away.

I really appreciate your emails and would also love to get snail mail. It gets hard when there are only about 5 or 6 people that you can have a meaningful conversation with. They have to listen to me a lot!!

Here is the alphabet I have to learn:

* + , - - ˙. / o O 1 2 q' † 3 4 5 6
